Dear HR Manager,

This letter is in regards to my interest in applying for Front-End Developer position posted on your website. I am a self-taught web developer first learning at a start-up, Edu.Chat, in Manhattan, New York. While working for Edu.Chat, I did the following: frontend development which consist of HTML, CSS, Javascript, JQuery, AJAX, Handlebars, React, and Webpack; backend development such as creating and documentation for necessary API's, querying the database, and setting up Django; and various tasks like cross-browser compatibility, using Node.js and Git.

I am very proficient in modern HTML, CSS, Javascript, JQuery, Python and all stages of web development. I've also have experience in building websites from scratch with Edu.Chat and my own personal projects. Building rapid, easy to use, user-friendly websites is truly a passion of mine and I actively seek out new technology to keep myself up-to-date and to improve as a developer.

Even though I have one-year professional experience as a web developer and have just started to propel my career. I know I am very capable of delivering above and beyond the expectations as a developer and employee of the company.

I've attached my resume that details my experience, along with links of websites I have worked on.

I can be reached from my cell phone, 602-412-8988 or via email at goryofficial@gmail.com. Thank you for your time and consideration. I look forward to speaking with you about this opportunity.

Best Regards,

Solomon Padilla
